

1. O Heart! thou ark which holds the Law, Not of the ser - vi -
 2. Heart, thou in - vi - o - la - ble shrine Where God's new cov - e -
 3. With such a wound as must ap - pear, Love willed that thou shouldst
 4. 'Neath love's own sym - bol, suff - 'ring twice, Things mys - ti - cal and

1. tude of old, But that from which we par - don draw; And
 2. nant has lain; Tem - ple, than Sa - lem's more di - vine; Veil,
 3. wound - ed be, That we might all the wounds re - vere, Which
 4. blood - y both, Christ, as a priest, in sac - ri - fice To

1. grace, and mer - cies man - i - fold.
 2. bet - ter than its veil in twain.
 3. love doth bear in - vis - i - bly
 4. heav'n up - lift - ed, noth - ing loath. 6. A - men.

5. Who would not love for love repay?
 What man, redeemed, could love refuse
 To this Heart, or herein, for aye,
 His Tabernacle fail to choose?

6. All glory be to thee, O Lord,
 Who from thy Heart all grace outpour;
 With Father and with Spirit blest
 In every age, for evermore. Amen.