

1. O Heart! thou ark which holds the Law, Not of the
 2. Heart, thou in - vi - o - la - ble shrine Where God's new
 3. With such a wound as must ap - pear, Love willed that
 4. 'Neath love's own sym - bol, suff - 'ring twice, Things mys - ti -

1. ser - vi - tude of old, But that from which we par - don
 2. cov - e - nant has lain; Tem - ple, than Sa - lem's more di -
 3. thou shouldst wound - ed be, That we might all the wounds re -
 4. cal and blood - y both, Christ, as a priest, in sac - ri -

1. draw; And grace, and mer - cies man - i - fold.
 2. vine; Veil, bet - ter than its veil in twain.
 3. vere, Which love doth bear in - vis - i - bly
 4. fice To heav'n up - lift - ed, noth - ing loath. 6. A - men.

5. Who would not love one loving him,
 Who bought him back by grace,
 And choose within his Sacred Heart
 A lasting dwelling place?

6. All praise to thee, O Lord, whose Heart
 Of grace is a rich store,
 To Father and to Comforter
 Now and forevermore. Amen.

Cor, arca legem continens

Tr. John Fitzpatrick, O.M.I., c. 1930